

After going through 6 different Investment Advisors throughout my lifetime who all seemed to be more focused on selling products versus understanding my retirement goals and objectives, I was introduced to Riad Assaf, Portfolio Manager at TD. He has been professionally managing my family's wealth since 2006 which is a testament to his investment philosophy, discipline and dedication to his clients. He focuses on high quality assets and as a result, our investment portfolios have been increased significantly since 2006 under Riad's stewardship and that includes the severe market crash we went through in 2008-2009. Over the years, I have referred a close family member who in turn has recently referred close family friends to deal with Riad.
