Rod McInnes

Senior Investment Advisor

Tel: 416-983-1755| roderick.mcinnes@td.com

Rod is a senior member of a sophisticated wealth advisory practice defined by disciplined investment management, thoughtful advice, and an unwavering focus on client objectives. He works with high net worth families, entrepreneurs, corporations, charitable organizations, and select TD executives, delivering highly customized, institutional-quality investment strategies through a clear and pragmatic approach.

Rod brings an experienced and steady hand to guiding portfolio strategy, complex wealth planning, and long-term stewardship for clients with multigenerational and corporate needs. The collective depth and scale of the practice provides clients access to unique opportunities across North American capital markets, alongside comprehensive guidance on sophisticated financial planning matters.

Rod began his career as an Investment Advisor with TD Evergreen (now TD Direct Investing) in 1998, drawing on prior experience at Imperial Oil. His client-first mindset and leadership led to dual roles as Branch Manager and Investment Advisor before he chose to focus exclusively on wealth management and joined the King & Bay Private Client Center to serve some of the bank’s most prominent clients.

Rod has built a family office–style practice grounded in discretion, long-term stewardship, and a meaningful client experience. He holds an undergraduate degree from the University of Western Ontario.
