

Salvatore (Savi) Scalise, CIM® B. Comm (Hons)

Associate Investment Advisor

Salvatore is passionate about helping individuals and families make informed financial decisions and build confidence in their future. As an Associate Investment Advisor with The Quarry Group Wealth Management, he works closely with clients to develop personalized wealth strategies that align with their goals, values, and evolving needs.

Before entering the wealth management industry, Salvatore earned his Finance degree while competing as a university-level hockey player. The discipline, accountability, and teamwork developed through athletics continue to influence his client-first approach and commitment to excellence.

Salvatore believes that effective wealth management is about more than investment performance. It is about understanding what matters most to clients and helping them navigate important life decisions with clarity and confidence. Whether planning for retirement, managing generational wealth, or preparing for life's unexpected events, he is dedicated to providing thoughtful advice and exceptional service.

Outside of work, Salvatore enjoys spending time with his wife, two daughters, and family dog. As both an advisor and a family man, he appreciates the importance of balancing current priorities with long-term financial security and brings that perspective into every client relationship.
